

Sharing Inspirational Practice:

Celebrating the work of the UKLA Literacy Schools of the Year

This conference is designed to celebrate the work of the UKLA Literacy School of the Year schools, and to give participants useful and practical insights about how to inject creativity into the literacy curriculum.

Led by current, outstanding classroom and head teachers from the winning and Roll of Honour schools, the programme will offer three keynote speeches and a selection of practical workshops to develop ideas for teaching the literacy curriculum in and outside the classroom.

The children of Horfield Primary will open the conference with music and choral speaking and we will have a keynote address from the UKLA President, Tracy Parvin. The children's author, Fleur Hitchcock (Murder in Midwinter, Dear Scarlett, Saving Sophia) will speak about the impact of her work as a visiting author to schools.

The wonderful Marilyn Brocklehurst of Norfolk Children's Book Centre, will speak about how to choose (and discard!) books for a school library. She will also be bringing a cornucopia of fabulous books to browse and buy, and there will be a UKLA bookshop with the latest titles on all aspects of literacy education.

The day will close with a Headteacher Panel, giving an opportunity to debate ideas and ask any questions.

Do not miss this unique opportunity to learn and share excellent practice in the teaching of literacy in your school!

Early bird prices (book before 31 January 2019): Members £25 • Non-Members £30
Ordinary price: Members £30 Non-Members £60

Book online at www.ukla.org/conferences

PROGRAMME

10.00 – 10.30	Arrival and registration with coffee/tea
10.30 – 10.45	Welcome from the school choir and the choral speakers
10.45 – 11.15	Keynote 1: Tracy Parvin, UKLA
11.25 – 12.10	Morning workshops
12.15 – 12.45	Fleur Hitchcock, author
13.15 – 13.45	Keynote 2: Marilyn Brocklehurst, Norfolk Children's Book Centre
13.55 – 14.40	Afternoon workshops
14.45 – 15.15	Headteacher Panel – questions from the floor
15.15 – 15.25	Conference close

WORKSHOPS

	Morning	Afternoon
A	Highview Primary Beyond the award: Maintaining and growing the standard	St Anthony's Primary School Working together to make a difference: A partnership with Strathclyde University
B	Joy Court, UKLA Greenaway Shadowing - the fast track to excellent creative texts	Hillmead Primary A play-based school curriculum: The role of using professional artists to enhance literacy learning
C	Horfield Primary Choral speaking: Working with children to explore a text in depth	Tracy Parvin, UKLA A picture really does paint a thousand words: Using picture books in KS2
D	Dianne Smith, Independent Consultant Building a teachers' book group	Horfield Primary Teachers as readers
E	Danestone School and Woodside School Working towards the UKLA Literacy School of the Year standard in a new school	Frederick Bird Primary Exploring through talking: Looking at the power of oracy to enhance reading and writing
F	Wallace Primary School 'Our Class Loves this Book' winners	Sue Polchow Promoting reading for enjoyment with the Reading Cloud library platform